

CJ Griffin Reappointed as Co-Chair of the NJ Bar Association's Media Law Committee

RELATED ATTORNEYS

CJ Griffin

RELATED PRACTICE AREAS

Media Law

News

7.1.19

Partner, CJ Griffin, a member of Pashman Stein Walder Hayden's Media Law Group, has been reappointed Co-Chair of the New Jersey Bar Association's Media Law Committee.

NJSBA President Evelyn Padin reappointed Griffin to the Co-Chair position. Griffin has had many years in leadership roles with the NJSBA, including previously serving as Chair of the LGBT Rights Section and as a member of the Bylaws & Resolutions Committee, New Jersey Lawyer Editorial Board, and the Amicus Committee.

The Media Law Special Committee monitors, studies and comments upon developments in or relating to media and communications law with the aim of improving the level of practice, providing continuing legal education opportunities through programs and conferences and disseminating timely information on evolving issues.